Registered person responsibilities

Being the registered person of a motor vehicle means you have several important responsibilities, including:

- letting the NZ Transport Agency know if you change your address
- licensing your vehicle by the due date or applying for an exemption from licensing if the vehicle is temporarily off the road
- letting the Transport Agency know immediately if you sell or dispose of the vehicle (see below for more information)
- keeping the vehicle up to warrant of fitness (WoF) or certificate of fitness (CoF) standard at all times
- keeping the road user charges (RUC) up-to-date if your vehicle is over 3500kg or is powered by diesel, or any other fuel not taxed at the pump
- cancelling the registration and returning the registration plates to an agent of the Transport Agency if the vehicle is going to be off the road permanently
- taking responsibility for speed camera fines, parking tickets and tolls incurred in this vehicle.

You can take care of some of these responsibilities online. Go to www.nzta.govt.nz/online.

Selling the vehicle

When a vehicle is sold, both the seller and the buyer must independently let the Transport Agency know.

If you sell the vehicle privately, we recommend you ask the person buying the vehicle to let the Transport Agency know before you hand it over. If you hand the vehicle over and the buyer hasn't completed their paperwork, you could be held liable for their fines and fees. They can confirm they've completed the paperwork by showing you a receipt of the notification, or if they completed the notification online, they could show you an email confirmation.

As the seller, you can complete the 'I've sold a vehicle' transaction online at www.nzta.govt.nz/online. You will need your New Zealand photo driver licence as identification. Or, you can call us on 0800 108 809 to let us know who bought the vehicle, or pick up the Selling or disposing of a vehicle? (MR13A) form available at an agent.

Factsheet 41: Buying and selling a vehicle contains further information about the buying and selling processes. You can view it online at www.nzta.govt.nz, or pick up a copy from an agent.

Personalised plates

If the vehicle has personalised plates attached to it and you're selling them with the vehicle, you must transfer the entitlement to the personalised plates independently of the vehicle.

Go to www.licensys.com for further information or contact LicenSys on 0800 REMAKE (0800 736253).
