HP Compaq dc7900 Desktop PC series

The dc7900 has been engineered for the specific needs of business computing. From lengthy life cycles to stable hardware and software images, this platform delivers the latest in PC technology, qualified to HP's highest standards; the dc7900 makes the most of your IT investment.

A good fit for your business
With three innovative form factors, you can choose the dc7900 model that best fits your work environment. The latest Intel technologies including the Intel® Q45 Express chipset featuring Intel GMA 4500 integrated graphics and Intel Core™ 2 Duo and Core™ 2 Quad processors provide the performance you expect from a commercial class PC. Utilize the latest graphics and display technologies with standard dual monitor support via both VGA and DisplayPort interfaces.

Increase manageability and reduce downtime
Maximize productivity in your managed IT environment with secure PC and Lifecycle Management features. The dc7900 supports industry standard remote management protocols including DASH 1.0 and Intel Core™ 2 Processors with vPro Technology.

Achieve business results with targeted professional innovations for the dc7900 Series
Built to simplify with 15-18 month long purchase lifecycles, image stability and a variety of client management solutions. Proactive product change notifications give up to 60 advance notice of system or image changes which helps to minimize downtime. Built to protect with Drive Encryption for HP ProtectTools which helps ensure that your sensitive information cannot be accessed if the desktop or hard drive is lost or stolen. It encodes information on a hard drive volume so that it becomes unreadable to an unauthorized person. HP ProtectTools™ Security Software Suite, including embedded security, comes standard on all HP Compaq dc7900 models. Built for efficiency as you can lower your operating costs by utilizing improved power saving technology such as 85% efficient power supplies and power management solutions. The HP Compaq dc7900 meets or exceeds most worldwide environmental PC standards. dc7900e models are EPEAT Gold registered and ENERGY STAR® qualified.
