Introduction

Dear Customer,

This latest edition of our catalogue is presented in a consolidated format in response to the many requests received from users of the old Bulgin "pocket" version.

In line with current practice, imperial measurements have been deleted and all dimensions are now stated in metric units with more comprehensive detail of materials, finishes and technical specifications.

Approvals held at the time of publication are specified for relevant products but, in line with our policy to continually expand this service, are subject to change and our sales staff will be pleased to provide update information.

With the introduction of computerisation it has been necessary to revise our list numbers, however regular users of Bulgin components will note that every effort has been made to retain recognisable identities. For your convenience a cross-referenced list number conversion index has been included with the more general description index.

Appropriately, the publication of this new catalogue coincides with our change in corporate style forming an integral part of our determination to continually offer a dynamic range of components, quality and service.

Ronald A Bulgin
Chairman
